Village building permits at $1.2 million

By Valerie Evenden
Staff writer

PONTOON BEACH — Twenty new homes with an overall value of $954,994 are under construction at the present time or have been built in the past few weeks.

The issuance of more than $1.2 million in building permits since April appears to signal that an anticipated building boom in the village is here and gaining momentum, officials said.

The permits and inspections list for construction, repairs, alterations and electrical work amounts to $1,219,509.

All the permits were issued between April and Sept. 26, including the 20 new residences, said Village Clerk Mary Warren. Village trustees were delighted when the total number of permits was reported at Tuesday night's board meeting.

"This is testimony that we are growing and I hope the Press-Record/Journal gets a copy of this," Trustee Louis Whitsell said, displaying the report.

In addition to the construction of homes, a permit for a $50,000 commercial building to house a mobile home sales business at Interstate 255 and Illinois 162 was issued to Ray Warren of American Lifestyles Mobile Home Sales.

Warren, Fenton, Mo., purchased property at 4432 Illinois

162 to build his company's first mobile home sales center in Madison County, the company's third center overall.

His first lot, which proved to be highly successful, opened three years ago in the Cahokia area after the I-255 access to Cahokia was completed. Warren said growth areas like Pontoon Beach are especially good for mobile home sales.

Three interchanges of I-255 are within the village boundaries, at I-270, Illinois 162 and State Aid 35 (Horseshoe Lake Road).

A $150,000 improvement-alteration project at the Amoco Service Station, Illinois 111 and East Chain of Rocks Road, includes installation of new pumps, fuel tanks and a sensing system, among other equipment, said paving work, Mary Warren said.

The list includes a new $20,000 building at Aqua Marine Sales, 4237-41 Illinois 111, issued to Carl Krohne. It will be utilized for a new Air-Glass Service business.

A $12,000 improvement-alteration project also is under way at Don Paulik's Pontoon Mobil Service Station, 4180 Pontoon Road.

In addition to homes being built by individuals, houses also are under construction in the Gethsemane, Timberlake Manor and Hogan subdivisions.

DJ at Gateway International

'Good morning Vietnam'

MADISON — The Vietnam Veterans of America expect that more than 10,000 visitors will flock to Gateway International Raceway, Illinois 203, south of Madison, on Oct. 15 for "Tribute '88," a salute to those who fought in America's longest war.

Adrian Cronauer, the armed forces radio disc jockey played by Robin Williams in the recent film, "Good Morning Vietnam," is scheduled to appear during the 12-hour festival.

Also slated to appear is Chris Noel, the star of AFVN-TV in Saigon for five years and the author of "Mother of Survival — The War Jane Never Saw."

Others on the program are "Britt Small and Festival," a 12-piece patriotic show band and "The Finally Welcome Home Concert," starring Lt. Bobby Ross and the best of the Nashville guitar "pickers."

Voloski: Wolf indirectly caused teacher strike

By Mike Myers
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — The prolonged teacher strike, according to Tom Voloski, Madison, is indirectly the fault of the Illinois General Assembly, House Majority Leader Jim McPike and Rep. Sam Wolf (D-11th Dist.).

Wolf denies it. Voloski is the Republican candidate for Wolf's seat in the Nov. 8 election.

"Particularly, I blame the General Assembly for failing to prioritize their responsibilities and make education number one in the budget," a press release quoted Voloski as saying.

"My opponent has failed to promote the idea of setting budget priorities. Clearly the current state representative has failed to provide (the) leadership it takes to provide adequate funding for education."

In particular, Voloski criticized the subsidizing of a stadium for the Chicago White Sox.

"Jim McPike engineered that while catastrophe from the Speaker's chair," Voloski was quoted as saying. "I guess he thinks our kids should spend their time watching baseball rather than having

'Impossible' Holy Family together, off to good start, getting even better

By Nicole Vaughn
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — Singing, cheering and booing can simultaneously be heard in the halls of Holy Family School.

In one corner of the school, cheers and boos arise at a mock presidential debate held by seventh-graders. In another corner, the voices of first-graders rise heavenward as they practice for an upcoming concert.

The scene is a far cry from the day last spring when Holy Family principal Sister Angeline learned that she had only the summer to ready the former St. Margaret Mary School for an influx of students. The previously consolidated Sacred Heart-St. Joseph School closed at the end of the spring term.

"I told them, 'That is impossible. We can't possibly get that done.' With the help of parents and parishioners, we were able to manage," she said.

Transportation had been a major concern before the merger but car-pooling by many parents solved most of the problem.

"Parents were really great about it," Sister Angeline said. "We set up a system so that parents could get in touch with others in their area to switch off driving."

Space was another immediate problem. "We've used every nook and cranny of available space," Sister Angeline said.

She was originally worried primarily about where to put the 264 students, but other challenges also arose. However, at the school year's start, not only was the renamed school ready, but so were additions to the curriculum including music, physical education and computer classes.

All students receive vocal music, music appreciation and theory instruction twice weekly. Band, offering instrumental lessons, is available to grades four through eight. Physical education is offered twice weekly.

"I think the parents were both surprised by and pleased with the programs," Sister Angeline said.

"Some of the children had not had PE or music classes until now."

A storeroom was converted into a music room with the addition of a door, a window, carpeting and new lighting.

ing and new lighting.

"This was once piled up from floor to ceiling with stuff," she said, pointing to the newly decorated room now filled with crooning first-graders.

Music instructor Dan Vizer gently reminds his students to stand up straight as they rehearse "My Father's Angels" for their first concert on Oct. 27.

The concert is as yet unnamed.

"I think I'll call it 'Mostly Gaither' like 'Mostly Mozart' after the composer," Vizer said.

"They're a good-looking group," Sister Angeline said of the first-graders. "They had their actions down pat."

A series of motions accompanies the song. Most of the students have memorized the motions, though some were still a little behind cue.

"They're still working on it," Vizer said and smiled.

Another addition has been six Apple 2e computers, which are available to all students in scheduled time slots.

"Right now we're trying to do keyboarding exercises for those who have never worked with computers before," Sister Angeline said. "We want them to learn basic typing skills so they can get off to good habits."

A seventh computer is expected to arrive soon.

That day, basketball backboards were also expected to arrive along with the manpower to install them.

"I'll believe it when I see it," Sister Angeline said. The conversion of the former St. Margaret Mary Church into a gymnasium was to have been completed Aug. 15. Parishioners now attend the former Sacred Heart Church.

Sister Angeline said she hopes that the gym will be completed soon, since fifth-grade sixth-grade and seventh-eighth-grade basketball teams are preparing to begin competition in November.

"We'll be participating in the Sunday focus

Alton Catholic School Basketball Conference this year for the first time," she said.

While the pews have been removed and plexiglass windows have replaced stained glass, a few remnants of the former church remain. The holy statues that were inside will be relocated within the school.

"We will be moving the Holy Family (statues) into the school," Sister Angeline said.

"We have statues from Sacred Heart and St. Joseph's also. We keep them as memories in the school to remind us of our roots."

Despite the lack of a church, an all-school Mass is held every Friday morning in the cafeteria.

In the cafeteria, an altar is stored against one wall, as is a pile of objects still without a place. Today, the room is filled with students "voting" for their favorite presidential candidate in a mock election sponsored by the eighth grade.

Red, white and blue streamers and American flags decorate the walls and posts. Separate tables allow children to register and vote. "Ballot judges" guard the patriotically decorated ballot boxes.

"We do this every election year to try and explain the voting system to the children," Sister Angeline said. "The strange part is that whatever the children vote is usually the way the public votes."

In that election, Gov. Michael Dukakis defeated Vice President George Bush 146 votes to 104.

Away from all the noise, Sister Angeline enjoys the sight of an empty hallway.

"They look so nice, empty," she said. "All summer long they were lined with boxes and boxes of things. Every time I'd empty a box, I would cheer."

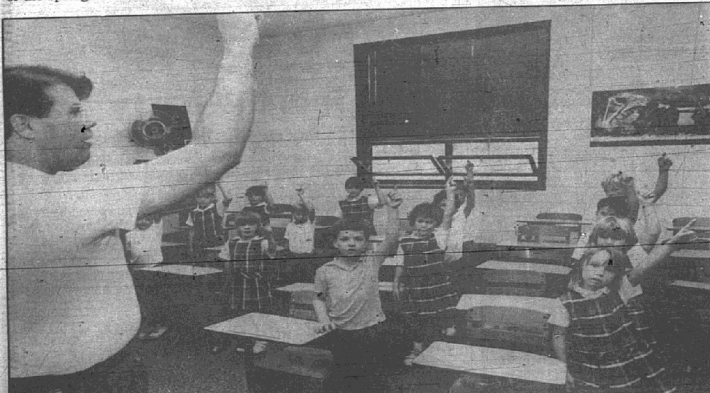

While the consolidation made for a long summer, it also provided the new school with a vast array of resources to draw from.

"We used the newest of texts in every subject," Sister Angeline said. "We had a number of televisions and every classroom has an overhead projector."

The excessive number of books from both schools allowed an 8,000-book library to be created at Holy Family.

"I kept saying we had a lot of books as we were unboxing them all," Sister Angeline recalled and laughed.

As the principal stands outside (See HOLY FAMILY, Page 6A)

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT: and these first-grade students of music teacher Dan Vizer know all about practicing. They are rehearsing for an upcoming concert at the school.

United Way report

HOPES ARE HIGH as United Way leaders prepare to gather at 8 a.m. Tuesday for the first campaign report breakfast at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church to hear progress reports and recognize contributions.

Gaffner appoints campaign staff

By Scott Cousins

COLLINSVILLE — Two area residents were among staff appointments made by Republican congressional candidate Robert Gaffner on Sept. 28.

He also unveiled his "Gaffner Mean Green Machine," a mobile home. Donated by a Greenville couple, it will serve as a mobile campaign office. He said his wife, Anne, will be taking a more active role in the campaign.

Gaffner, R-Greenville, is facing U.S. Rep. Jerry Costello, D-Bellefonte, in the Nov. 8 general election. Costello narrowly defeated Gaffner in a special election made necessary by the death of Rep. Mel Price.

Among the staff appointments were Donna Graham, a Collinsville Township precinct committeewoman, and Marvin France of Troy.

Graham will be Gaffner's office manager. She will be responsible for the day-to-day operation of the campaign headquarters and the direction of volunteers working in the headquarters.

France will be director of communications and planning. He will be responsible for media relations and will be the authorized spokesman for the campaign in Gaffner's absence.

Other appointments include: Mark J. Deschaine of St. Clair County — campaign chairman.

David Embury of Bond County — campaign treasurer.

Steven Gear of Millstadt — director of finance and fund-raising.

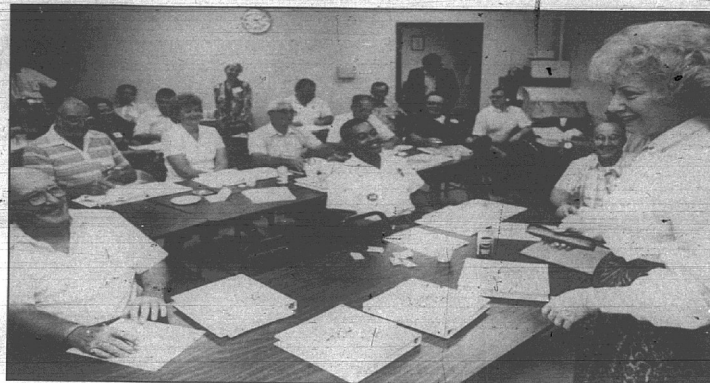

Marshall Swing of rural St. Clair County — director of field operations.

Bill Atwood, who served as Gaffner's campaign chairman during the special elections, will be a consultant to the campaign.

Gaffner said the mobile home, painted lime green, was donated by Neal and Len Hensley of Greenville and would be recorded as an in-kind donation.

If Gaffner wins, it would be a portable office later.

Gaffner will use the "Green Machine" to greet voters.

Clothing, food, toys sought for area needy

The Rev. Gerris Edwards, pastor of The Apostolic Faith Church, is seeking food, clothing and toys to provide for area needy.

She distributes food and clothing at the Washington Park Food Department, 5066 Bunkum Road. Edwards said more could be done if others who are more fortunate would donate food and money.

Edwards cited the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Barnes of Lebanon, who collected clothing, shoes, toys and some household items to help the church help the needy.

Park District plans trip to Hannibal folk festival

Registration starts Thursday, Oct. 6, for a one-day trip to Hannibal, Mo., planned by the Granite City Park District.

The excursion will take place Saturday, Nov. 5, during the 11th anniversary of the Autumn Historic Folk Festival sponsored by the Hannibal Arts Council.

The annual festival is a celebration focusing on the lifestyle of middle 19th century.

Dozens of food items will be served from wood-burning cook stoves along the streets of Hannibal's historic district, where visitors may shop at specialty stores and craft booths or view performances on stages and in the streets.

More than 30 crafts will be demonstrated and sold at this year's festival, park officials said.

The craft activities include basket weaving, beehkeeping, wood carving, cornhusk dolls, dried flowers and wreath making, herbs, jewelry, scrimshaw, whistle-making for bird calls.

willow furniture and other items commonly available prior to the turn of the century.

Entertainment will feature singing and playing of musical instruments popular a century ago, highlighted with a traditional fiddlers' contest, stage performances and other competitions.

The trip costs $15 per person and the fee does not include any meals. Food will be readily available on the streets all day and at restaurants in the festival area.

Reservations will be taken starting at 8 a.m. Thursday at the Wilson Park Office. Park District residents will be given priority, with non-residents wishing to go placed on a waiting list.

Residents may register no more than two persons, with proof of residence being presented for each person.

A second bus will be arranged if enough people are interested in making the trip, park authorities said.

MILLION TONS OF SALT WILL BE DUMPED ON ROADS THIS WINTER

Salt eats cars...Ziebart wins the fight against salt.

Salt and moisture attack every part of a car: places you can see and places you can't.

That means rust forms inside and underneath, as well as on the outside.

While most of today's cars are protected better against rust, many critical areas are still left completely unprotected.

Only Ziebart Rust Protection covers the entire car, top to bottom, bumper to bumper...Every nook, cranny and crevice where salt and moisture attack.

Ziebart has been the leader in rust protection for 25 years. And our warranty is good for the life of your car, transferable to a new owner if you sell your car. In the unlikely event your car does rust, we'll repair it, free of charge.

Before salt and moisture attack, get Ziebart Rust Protection and win the fight against rust.

TRAVELING CHECKS LEAVE YOUR COMMUNITY WITH INSUFFICIENT FUNDS

If you sign traveling checks to big city merchants you're eroding your community's economic future.

Every check that travels away from home is money that will never return. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent this way every year by people just like you.

Can we afford to pass up the extra values that home-spent dollars give us in better schools, more jobs and more prosperous businesses that serve us better?

The glamour and glitter of the big city "fast track" comes with many unseen pitfalls. Let's keep our checks at home, traveling around town, making this a better community for all of us.

"The backboards are nice but they say we need a floor plan," McKee said.

Sister Angelele is quick to solve the problem. "Call the architect," she said.

Despite all the work and the minor snags that have hampered her along the way, Sister Angelele has a highly positive attitude about the whole experience.

"It was a lot of work but I wouldn't have wanted them to send someone else to do it."

2 arrested after fight by students

By Andy Siering
Staff writer

MADISON — On the heels of a fight Thursday afternoon involving two Madison High School students, officials denied Friday that there was any racial tension at the school.

The incident, which took place away from the campus shortly after school had let out, involved two juveniles. Police were told that a boy, 15, struck a boy, 16, with an ax handle.

By the time police arrived at 2:50 p.m. Thursday, 20 minutes after school had let out, football coach Don Smith was separating the boys. Smith said he did not know how the fight started, having gone to investigate when he heard that some of his football players were at the scene.

"The story I got was that one kid was trying to take up for another kid and some others got involved," Smith said.

A group of about 20 juveniles remained when police arrived, and another 20 students were leaving.

The boy, 16, attempted to rush the boy, 15, and was restrained by police. When he struggled, he was taken into custody, police said.

That's what this has been on Friday, school officials reported 34 absences. The school has an enrollment of 358 students.

After leaving their Granite City home in mid-August, the Robertsons stayed at several places and then began residing in the Roxana area. Jason, a hemophiliac, contracted the AIDS-related complex through contaminated blood products.

Despite the protest, Jason's first day of school went well. "We had an excellent day," Dorothy Stickels, principal of South Roxana Elementary, said.

Jason played on the playground with the other children and said he had enjoyed school and playing with his new friends.

Signs of welcome greeted him as he entered the school Thursday.

There were 52 absences reported at the school on Thursday but about seven students

America Chapter 309 in Fairview Heights, is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. at the raceway, said organizer and Vietnam veteran Don Roush. There will be no admission charge.

Other displays and demonstrations will be provided by Army National Guard, Military Reserve and active-duty military units.

At 1 p.m., during a POW/MIA (prisoner of war/missing in action) rally, the veterans will release 4,044 balloons to honor their dead and missing comrades and those who still may be imprisoned in Southeast Asia, Roush said.

Other attractions include skydivers, a veterans' information booth and Vietnam-era memorabilia booths. A Carnival Cruise Line cruise for two and a trip for two to the Ramada Inn On The Beach in Cancun, Mexico, will be given during the event, Roush said.

Gateway International Raceway is located on Illinois 203 between St. Louis and Madison, near Interstate 57/70.

Principal Robert Melhic said he had not heard of any reports of tension, and said the atmosphere at the school, Sixth and Farish Streets, was calm Friday. There were two patrol cars at the school that day.

Asked if he had received any reports on the incident, Melhic said he had not. Pointing out that it happened a block away from the school, Melhic said it is school policy to let the police handle such an incident.

Fourth Ward Alderman Charles Rockett, who has a child attending the school, said he did not believe there was any racial tension at the school.

Ronald B. Burns Jr., 20, 2015 Edwardsville Road, a relative of the arrested juvenile, appeared later at the police station and interfered with officers, police alleged.

Burns was arrested and charged with disobeying and obstructing a police officer, two counts of resisting arrest, and destruction of public property (a policeman's nameplate).

The 16-year-old was charged with verbal abuse and later released. The boy, 15, had not been arrested as of Friday.

On Friday, school officials reported 34 absences. The school has an enrollment of 358 students.

Stickels said many parents planned to send their children to school on Monday, having kept them home on Thursday and Friday to avoid publicity at the school.

Only one incident occurred. Shortly after returning home from school on Thursday, the Robertsons saw three carloads of protesters who yelled and waved signs out of the windows, Mrs. Robertson said.

Jason played on the playground with the other children and said he had enjoyed school and playing with his new friends.

Signs of welcome greeted him as he entered the school Thursday.

There were 52 absences reported at the school on Thursday but about seven students

'E.T.,' 'Cinderella' dominate fall season video releases

By Richard Zacks
Video reviewer
New York Times Syndicate

A preview of the fall video season usually winds up looking like a rerun of whatever passed through the theaters six months earlier. Not this year.

Two movies from long ago have moved to dominate the home-video picture: "E.T." (1982, MCA, $24.95, Oct. 29) and "Cinderella" (1950, Disney, $26.95, Oct. 4).

"E.T." looks primed to become the best-selling cassette in history as marketing gurus are predicting people could buy an astronomical 10 million copies. "Cinderella" should easily ship into the No. 2 all-time sales spot. (The current No. 1 is "Lady and the Tramp" at slightly more than 3 million copies.)

Be prepared to be flooded with commercials for those two movies as Pepsi is backing the "E.T." and Crest Toothpaste and Coca-Cola are pushing the little lady.

In addition, well-placed industry sources expect that "Three Men and a Cradle" (1987, Touchstone, $29.98), starring Tom Selleck, Steve Guttenberg and Ted Danson, could hit the stores in November.

Besides those three titles, the big releases of the fall already featured a couple of weeks ago. "The Last Emperor" (1987, Nelson, $89.95), "Moonstruck" (1987, MGM/UA, $89.95) and "Broadway News" (1987, CBS/Fox, $89.98) all came out about Sept. 1. If you have somehow missed any of these, put your name on the waiting list.

There are a handful of other "A" titles coming down the pike this fall. "Beetlejuice" (1988, Warner, $89.98, Oct. 19) really burns during the 30 minutes or so that Michael Keaton is on-screen as the ruthless, lustful ghost. Coming in late November will be the controversial "Coloring Sean Penn" (1988, Touchstone, $89.98), starring Sean Penn and focusing on gang wars in Los Angeles. Sylvester Stallone will be ready again to defeat entire armies when "Rambo III" (1988, IVE, $89.98) blasts into stores Oct. 14.

After New Year's look for another batch of blockbuster titles as January is increasingly becoming a hot month for video releases. You see, the studios want to avoid the Christmas sales chaos and send out their titles after millions of people have received VCRs as Christmas gifts.

Smart money has it that "Bull Durham" (1988, Orion, $89.98), "Red Heat" (1988, IVE, $89.98) and possibly "Crocodile Dundee II" (1988, Paramount, $89.98) could hit the shelves in January. "Big" (1988, CBS/Fox, $89.98) is looking like December or January.

Rounding out the fall among semi-major movie releases are the following: "Shoot to Kill" (1988, Touchstone, $69.98, Sept. 27), Sidney Poitier returns to the screen after a 10-year hiatus and teams up in this action drama with Kirstie Alley and Tom Berenger. "Masquerade" (1988, CBS/Fox, $89.98, Sept. 29). Rob Lowe plays a gold-digging sailboat captain out to land Meg Tilly's millions in this completely unconvincing film.

"Bright Lights, Big City" (1988, MGM/UA, $89.98). A passionless film starring Michael J. Fox that never captures the decadent world of Jay McInerney's novel.

"Anna" (1987, Vestron, $89.98, Nov. 2). Sally Kirkland steals the show as an aging actress who must give way to a new star, played by model Paulina Porizkova.

"Biloxi Blues" (1988, MCA, $89.98, Nov. 10). Matthew Broderick is great as Neil Simon's alter ego in this play about a Jewish boy going to Army boot camp in Biloxi, Miss.

"The Dead" (1987, Vestron, $19.98, Sept. 29). John Huston directed it, Tom Huston wrote the adaptation of the James Joyce story and Anjelica Huston starred in it.

Also in time for stuffing Christmas stockings will be hundreds of titles rereleased at discount prices. The hottest of the bunch is probably "Platoon" (1986, Vestron), to be rereleased on Oct. 12 at $24.95.

Even though they often get lost in the shuffle, some non-movie titles will be arriving this fall and, yes, some are worth watching.

Several cassettes are being released to commemorate the 25th anniversary of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. Among those, check out the one CBS News produced just for home video: "John F. Kennedy: The Commemorative Video Album" (1988, CBS/Fox, $19.98, Sept. 29) with Walter Cronkite, Dan Rather and Harry Reasoner.

Besides the instant World Series and Olympics highlights, Sports Illustrated will deliver the third volume of its "Get-the-Feeling" series with one on "Winning" (1988, HBO, $14.99, Sept. 28). Maybe a safer bet is their "All New Not So Great Moments in Sports" (1988, HBO, $14.99, Oct. 12).

The dumbest release of the fall goes to "Beauty and the Beast" (1987, Republic, $19.95, November). Yeah, the TV-show pilot. It comes with a full-color autographed photo of Ron Periman as Vincent.

Best Bets: "Batteries Not Included" (1987, MCA, $89.98). Aliens save five tenants from eviction. Starring Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn.

"Milagro Beanfield War" (1987, MCA, $89.98). Robert Redford directed this parable about a poor handyman who refuses to be bullied by a land developer. Ruben Blades, Sonia Braga.
